

DAZEY.

This week will about finish threshing in this vicinity.

O. T. Olson's have begun to move into their residence.

Geo. Lee has commenced excavations preparatory to building next spring.

A man got too obstreperous the other day and was put in the "cage" over night.

Some cases of what appears to be "scarletina" have been quarantined by Dr. Spicer, but it appears to be only a mild form.

A. H. Wije, of the real estate firm of Wije & LaValley, came down from Moorhead last Tuesday. He returned recently from a trip to Norway, which he reported as having been a very pleasant one.

It is reported that some one has offered one hundred dollars for satisfactory proof that liquor is being illegally dispensed with in the town. If the senses can be trusted, plenty of evidence may be seen on the street most every day. It doesn't speak well for the moral and civic tone of a community, when they allow lawlessness to prevail unmolested in their midst. Are the people afraid to assert their right, or what seems to be the matter? Maybe, but we hope not, the people rather enjoy the present state of affairs. And North Dakota is a prohibition state!
