

DAZEY.

The stores will keep open evenings now after April first.

The farmers are getting ready for spring now in earnest.

R. E. Lee expects the return of his wife and baby this week.

N. P. Raasmussen was up last week looking after his business enterprises.

Mrs. Waks, from over Wimbledon way, has been visiting with Mrs. Laing this week.

Grandpa Cowger has been somewhat under the weather lately, but is quite well again.

Mrs. Owens came up from southern Barnes Monday morning to visit her sons and daughters here.

Secure your tags and seals to ship your sweet cream to Valley City creamery. They pay top prices.

Mrs. A. A. Gad left for McHenry last week where she intends to stay on her claim until it is "proved up."

Superintendent M. W. Barnes paid the schools a visit last Friday. Mr. Barnes is always welcome in Dazey.

The new sidewalk on Second Avenue east (are we correct?) adds considerably to the comfort of the pedestrian.

Prospective patrons are invited to visit the Valley City creamery and interview Manager Witter. It will pay you.

The land office is being fixed up in real modern style, a large new counter having recently been added to the equipment.

Mr. Wallbridge has been putting up picture moldings in all the rooms of the school building, thus adding considerably to its attractiveness.

Alfred Nelson has left school to help with the spring work on the farm. He will return to graduate with the eighth grade class in the spring.

O. T. Olson received the sad news last Sunday of his mother's death at her home in Waukesha county, Minn. Mr. Olson left for his old home Tuesday.

James Brennon has arrived with his stock and machinery and expects his family this week. He, it will be remembered, has bought the Thurston farm.

Last Friday a number of men prominent in Barnes county and state politics, visited the city, among them Gov. White, Senator A. B. Cox, and Attorney E. T. Burke.

In a recent periodical, we note the following stray thought: "The balsam to the pungent fact that the truth hurts, is the soothing knowledge that 'tis seldom told."

Easter Sunday was fittingly observed last Sunday morning by a program given by the M. E. Sunday school. The church was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

At last Friday's meeting of the Dazey Literary association it was decided that the victory of Russia would have a better influence on the world than the victory of Japan.

The next debate in the Literary association will be on the subject of Woman's Suffrage. Though it has been the subject of discussion so often, opinion on the matter is by no means unanimous.

The marriage of Mr. Joe Nelson to Miss Agnes Heflebower occurred at Fargo and not at Valley City as last week reported. We intended to have said that the bride had taught several, not seven years in the vicinity.

Miss Anna Hamlin returned last Saturday morning from a visit of several months with friends and relatives in Ontario, Canada. Several snow storms in the east blocked traffic and extended Miss Hamlin's visit about a week.

Wm. Thompson, of Griggs county, was in town Monday transacting business. It is interesting to note that Mr. Thompson left the lace manufacturing business at Manchester, England to engage in farming in North Dakota. He is quite enthusiastic over America and its people, and has fully made up his mind to remain here.

In last week's statement regarding the pastor's departure, he assures us that we were somewhat in error as to the cause, for Mrs. Kinley has some land up in the Mouse River country on which they must reside prior to making final proof. Nevertheless suggestions along that line are seldom out of order, for preachers are seldom over paid. They expect to remain here until about the 20th inst.
