

DAZEY.

John Oppegard left for Fargo last Saturday.

Geo. Lee is out of town, destination unknown.

J. E. Jacobsen left for the twin cities last Friday.

E. A. Duff spent a few days in Brainerd last week.

Louis Mossige departed for the twin cities Tuesday of last week.

K. L. Glidden, the Wimbledon hotel man, was in town Saturday.

Miss Vining, the cook at the Iowa, left for McHenry last Friday.

Maxwell MacInnes is confined to his house with a severe sore throat.

J. L. LaValley came up from Moorhead Thursday, returning Saturday.

It is rumored that a Leap Year dance is among the social possibilities of the near future.

Sheriff Oppegard was in town the fore part of the week renewing acquaintances.

Nelson & Heimark shipped a car of cattle Saturday, Mr. Nelson accompanying the car.

Geo. Hartwell has recently purchased the mammoth Duff barn, at the rear of the drug store.

Elder Moore, of Jamestown district, will deliver a sermon in the M. E. church next Sunday, January 24.

Charles Gad and wife left for McHenry last Friday, where they will settle on their newly acquired claim.

LaValley thinks that in paying some $1700 in taxes, he is doing more than his share in supporting the government.

Friday evening, February 5, the Lyceum will meet in Society hall. After they have given a program, a basket auction will be held for the benefit of the school library. All the ladies are asked to bring their baskets. It will cost nothing to get in, though we don't know but it may take a few cents to get out. The orchestra has promised to assist in the festivities by giving few selections.

Last Friday a number of Dazeys' citizens met at the school house to organize a Lyceum or Debating club. After a temporary organization was effected, an impromptu debate was held on the subject, "Should the president be elected by direct popular vote." Messrs. Gallegly, Rev. Kinley, Thurston, Dr. Spicer, and M. O. Spicer discussed the question in its various phases.