

DAZEY.

Mrs. E. A. Duff left recently for a brief visit to Minneapolis.

Ray Thurston stayed over Sunday with his folks returning Monday evening.

It is reported that the teachers are planning on a short Thanksgiving program.

Miss Anna Braddock, of Valley City Normal was visiting with friends here recently.

The Big Store people can congratulate themselves these days for having a steam plant.

The Sunday school officials are planning on a basket social in the near future so 'tis said.

A temperance lecturer spoke to a small audience in the Norwegian Lutheran church recently.

Attorney Spicer was down from Cooperstown, taking his dinner with the family of C. W. Prydz.

This cold snap does not meet with very popular approval here. We wonder how other people take it.

Ed. Olson left for a visit to Idaho last Monday evening. He is said to be looking up investments in real estate.

The school has nearly reached its limit of seating capacity, but we are informed that new seats are on the way.

The boys have already commenced to dig out their skates, the lake north west of town affording the desired grounds.

The wood man has been busy these days, though as the mercury falls, coal seems to rise—at least in the popular esteem.

The school board has recently provided the school with a fine large bookcase to accommodate the growing school library, Mr. Walbridge having done the work.

Mr. "Sandy" Henderson left for Washington state last Monday evening. He expects to spend the winter there thus escaping the rigors of our North Dakota climate.

Mr. Kinley, the new Methodist pastor, preached his first sermon here last Sunday evening. We hope that he does not find the place quite so bad as has been reported. Dazey is just like so many people, not so bad after you get their acquaintance.

The opening dance of the season was held in Larson's new hall last Friday evening. Though the weather was disagreeable, a nice, large crowd assembled to enjoy the occasion. The hall, though not so very large, is nicely finished, and is, withal, a credit to the town.