

While on their way to Jamestown last Friday, A. J. Melgard, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brastrup had an accident from which they are thankful to have escaped without serious injury, or worse. They were in Mr. Melgard's car and about five miles south of Courtenay it skidded on the road which was very hard and smooth, and before it could be straightened out the machine went over the grade into a ditch, turning completely upside down. The top, windshield, steering wheel, and other parts were damaged, but the occupants, luckily got off with but slight bruises. The car was pulled back to Courtenay for repairs.
