

Tom Fallen received some serious internal injuries Sunday, the result of being crowded against a stall by some of his horses. A doctor was called at once who gave him the necessary attention and although he suffered greatly for a day or so he is now improving.