

Marcus Henvit fell down the cellar stairway at his home Sunday night, receiving some severe bruises about his back and head. He was unable to be with the bunch at the opening of school Monday, but is now up and around.