

Lightning Struck

Lampert's Barn

Wednesday, June 20, about 1:20 a. m., lightning struck the barn on the Tom Bradford farm where Phil Lampert lives and killed ten head of cattle that were outside the door, seeking protection from the storm. The barn caught fire, but it was put out before much damage was done. The barn was insured but the cattle were not, therefore were a total loss.
