

Paul Lien arrived home Friday from Minneapolis, where he recently graduated from the law school at the state university. He is one of the number to take the state bar examination at Grand Forks this spring.