

---

The school picnic at Bailey's grove last Friday afternoon came near ending with a tragedy. The children of Mrs. Max Strasser's had driven to the picnic in an open spring wagon, and as they were starting home the team became frightened and ran away. The children were thrown out and one son, Harold, had both bones of one forearm broken, besides receiving a bad cut over one eye. He was hurried to Coopers-town in Claude Fallen's car and the bones of the arm reset. He is getting along well although there is much swelling.

---