

George Frederick, living ten miles north of Tower City died Monday of last week, his illness having been noted in the Reporter. His brother W. J. and wife were there at the time of his death and funeral. He was 50 years old.