James McCullough of Jessie, who had been sick many months jumped from an upstairs window last Friday, landing head downward on a rock, causing his death. The funeral was held at Cooperstown Monday.