

S. J. Patterson, an elevator man at McHenry committed suicide Saturday by hanging himself. He was implicated in a plot to burn another elevator there which was operated by Chas. Wilson who is now in the penitentiary. Patterson had been called to Carrington where charges were preferred against him, but was allowed to return home, ostensibly to look after his business affairs.