

George Allen's had their car damaged in a crash with a new Ford at Wimbledon Sunday. They had driven to that place to visit Mrs. Allen's brother and family, and while on the highway in the south part of town were struck by a Ford going about 50 miles an hour. The fact that Allen's car was moving very slowly probably saved them from serious injuries. As it was they escaped without a scratch, but the other car was overturned and pretty badly smashed.
