

Mrs. F. C. Boeckman is mourning the loss of much of her summer's work raising poultry, due to the raid on her flock by a badger. The animal entered the chicken house one night recently and killed 60 of her chickens, burying the entire lot in the house.