

The opening event at Wm. J. Bolduc's store Saturday was a very successful one, the store being crowded from early in the morning until late at night. The crew of assistants was kept busy during the entire day. Those who were on the job for the day, including the regular force were Mr. Bolduc, Miss Mabel Olson, Miss Leona Deitrich, Joseph Ebentier, O. B. Hoff, Mrs. Ebentier and Mrs. Ed Rhodes. The receipts from the sale amounted to $600. The sack of flour was won by Neal Cooper. The crowds were entertained during the day by programs from a radio that had been set up by L. V. Thorson.
