

Charles Ernest came down from Glenfield Monday and opened up the meat shop again. He states that he expects to stay strictly on the job and operate a first class market. There is surely a field for a good meat market in this community; and if his enthusiasm continues he will no doubt receive the support of our citizens.