Drilling at the Glenfield well i has been discontinued as a hard formation resembling granite 1 was encountered, the drill being unable to penetrate it. It is the intention now to pull the small cusing up to the water wein and make a test of the oil possibilities at that point.