

The water at the Glenfield well is now shut off and the casing has been sunk to a depth of 3065 feet. The drillers are all set to go down rapidly into what looks like a sure indication of oil. If you havent bought stock yet or contemplate buying more, now is the time to get in on what looks like a very sure thing. A few days or a few weeks^m at the latest will tell the story.
