

Chris Greenland now has the agency for the Star car, a very nifty looking boat, indeed. It has been on the market only a short time, but has become very popular in different parts of the country.