

From Glenn

W. Honey

Groton, S. D.,

July 31, 1929.

Dear Friends:

This is a hello for everybody. I have been in South Dakota over a year and am fine. I like it real well here; don't ever expect to go back to N. D. to live. I don't believe I could ever be satisfied there. Bank disasters and crop failures wouldn't agree with me.

Expect to come back to Sutton for a visit soon after the busy season is over. I find it pretty hard to get away. I intended to come by aeroplane some time the fore part of August, but the ship in which I was to come was wrecked here last Sunday and two were killed. One who was the pilot, had been an intimate friend of mine since I came here.

I have spent much time around aeroplanes, and in fact I intended to learn to fly this fall. Of course I have not given it up altogether but it will be hard to forget this accident.

Will send you a copy of the Groton Independent later so you might read about it

I wish to subscribe for the Reporter so if you will start me out with your next issue and a bill for the same for a year's subscription I will be very much obliged.

Yours truly,

Glenn W. Honey