

Several of our citizens have been going to the Ernest Johnson farm this week to watch the operations of Mr. Johnson's new combine which he is using to harvest and thresh his crop this year. It seems to be the accepted idea that the combine method will become very popular on our farms in a very short time.