

Vernon Kirkeby had his Ford coupe damaged to some extent last Friday night when he drove into a car near Glenfield that had been left standing in the road without lights. Luckily no one was hurt although all of the occupants of his car were thrown out. People who abandon cars on the highway at night should arrange some signal light for the protection of other drivers.