

Lincoln, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Madsen, had a narrow escape in an automobile accident, which might have been very serious. Monday morning he took the smaller children to the Skjelset school, and while the boy was on his way home the front wheels of his car locked, thus throwing it into the ditch. Lincoln was unconscious for half an hour but on regaining consciousness was able to walk home. He received a bad gash on the leg and a few minor bruises. - Hannaford Enterprise.
