

Ed Rhodes now has his camping-truck practically completed and it is a very nobby outfit too. The framework and inclosure are of very light material, but at that the truck weighs over 2200 pounds. He and his family expect to use it sometime in making a trip through the southern states.