

Ole Selden has decided he is too old to work at his trade, so he is negotiating with a party to rent his blacksmith shop. Ole was one of the first settlers in this town, having come here the fall of 1912 almost fifteen years ago.