Kicked By Horse

Jaw is Crushed

While doing his chores Sunday evening, Sam Simenson was kicked by a horse, his jaw being badly shattered. There was no one else at the barn when it occurred, so he had to crawl to the house, not being able to walk or tell any of the details. A doctor was called and he advised going to Fargo immediately, so No. 2 was stopped for that purpose Sunday night. It will be several weeks before he is able to return home. Mrs. Simenson is in Fargo with her husband.
