

Max Strasser who had been in the Foster county jail several weeks on a bootlegging charge, was given his freedom last week with the understanding that he would leave the state. We are told that he left for Wisconsin Monday.