

Roy Wagoner has a crippled foot, the result of a fall Wednesday, while selling cabbage from the car at the depot. He stepped on a head of cabbage which turned, causing the toe of his shoe to become caught in a crack as he fell. Two bones in his foot were broken, making the attention of a doctor necessary. He is going about on crutches.