

The school house at Warwick was destroyed by fire last week. It started in the basement about eight in the evening and had gained so much headway when discovered that nothing could be saved.