Touched Her Sympathy.

A kind-hearted lady was collecting for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. She paid a series of house-to-house visits, and at one door her knock was answered by a rather stupid-looking servant, says Pearson's Weekly.

The lady explained her errand; that she was collecting small sums for the funds of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, but the girl found this title rather too much of a mouthful. She went upstairs to the nursery, where her mistress was hard at work bathing and dressing half a dozen lively, shouting children, and trying at the same time to coax the recently arrived baby to go to sleep, and announced: "Please'm, there's somebody at the door collectin' for the Society for the Prevention of Children."

The worried mother sent down a willing donation of half a dollar.

Character Told by Laughter.

A French paper has expressed that a person's character is expressed in his manner of laughing. If you laugh in "Ha ha" fashion, you are frank if a man and inconstant and incapable of keeping a secret if a woman. If you laugh "Heh, heh," you are neuroathenic, melancholy and skeptical. If you adopt a deeper tone and laugh in "Ho, ho's," you are generous, easy-going and good-natured. The proper pitch for the fair sex to laugh in is "He, he," while people who laugh with a "Hoo, hoo" effect should be avoided as hypocritical, scandal-mongering and miserly.
