

Carl Erickson, a prominent and wealthy farmer of the Glenfield neighborhood, suffered a paralytic stroke last week, which caused his death Wednesday, December 20. He had spent the summer building a fine new modern country residence and had only finished it a few weeks ago not being permitted to live to enjoy its comforts but a brief time. He was the father of Mrs. A. O. Peterson.