

Charles Hochberger, who was injured during the storm at Wimbledon Sunday, died Thursday, there being no hope at any time for his recovery. He had come to Sutton from Iowa just three days before the sad occurrence to help his son Fred this fall. The body was taken back to Summer Iowa for burial.