

Robert Lyle

Killed in Action

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lyle were advised by telegram Saturday that Robert was killed in France July 15, he being the first Griggs county boy to die at the front. Thus the grim realities of war are coming home to us now, if never before, and while we have seen them all depart with no expectation of meeting them again, the news of a home boy's life being taken brings the same sadness of heart as under any other condition. There is consolation in the fact, tho' that when they die, they die with their faces toward the enemy.
