

The attendance Sunday at the memorial service in honor of Robert Lyle was very large, there being scarcely standing room. There would have been many more present, but the hour for the service could not be determined on until a very late date. The service was conducted by Rev. A. M. Hewson, assisted by Rev. Bennett of Cooperstown. The music was furnished by a quartet of men's voices and by Miss Hazel Starr and Miss Fanny Newberry of Cooperstown, each of whom sang a solo. The church was most beautifully decorated with flags, flowers and ferns. Above the altar was suspended a service flag containing a star for each Sutton boy in the army and navy, and a gold star in the center in honor of our dead soldier boy.
