

Big Air Frolic at Willow Lake Sun.

Red Willow Lake enthusiasts and baseball fans will be treated to something extraordinary at an aerial frolic and baseball game between Cooperstown and the Aneta-Sharon crew at the south end of the resort Sunday, August 14.

J. Earl Fladeland, well-known Northwest aviator, and Al Blackstone, foremost wing walker and parachute jumper of this country, will stage an act, including walking erect on edge of upper wings, standing in center of plane on top during loop with no stirrups or handholds, swinging acrobatics from rope ladder far beneath plane, and the parachute jump into lake, done so near the crowd that all can see the jump-off.

In case of rain the program will be postponed until the following Sunday.
