

Last Friday evening a bad hail storm hit S. G. Howden's and the Wm. Howden farm occupied by C. F. Weitenbagen, doing great damage to the crop. The loss was estimated at about 80 per cent, thus practically wiping out what was considered one of the best wheat prospects ever on these farms. The storm struck lightly on several other farms nearby and farther east, but the damage was not so great.