

Arm Broken

Leonard Larson, son of Mrs. J. P. Larson, had the misfortune to break his arm Thursday evening. He was riding home from school in one of the busses and when the rig turned in at R. A. Hall's it was driven too near a loose post that was in the ground. Leonard attempted to push the post over so the bus would not hit it and in some manner his right arm was caught and both bones in the forearm broken. Dr. Pherrin was called and he set the broken member.
