

Barn Burned

J. W. Leininger's barn was entirely destroyed by fire Wednesday evening, starting presumably from a lighted cigarette. Fifteen head of his best horses were in the barn and could not be saved. We hear there was no insurance.
