

Dr. T. H. Lewis was taken suddenly ill with an attack of appendicitis Monday, and that evening he went to Fargo, where an operation was performed. At last reports he was getting along quite well.