

Warren Posey has sold all of his personal property and rented his farm to a Mr. Roy Emerson, who formerly lived near the Canadian border. Mr. Posey has been crippled up with rheumatism for some time and expects to go somewhere for treatment a little later. They have not decided for certain where they will live in the future.