

B. A. Thorsgaard returned from Minot Wednesday after a few days visit with C. L. Runyon, who it will be remembered was injured a short time ago. It is thought now that the sight of the eye will be restored, it is even thought that he can see slightly with the injured eye at the present time. It is gratifying to learn that his injury, may not prove so disastrous as it was feared at first—Courtenay Gazette