

Peter Falk was a passenger for Vergas, Minn., Sunday, where he expected to be married to a young lady of that place, Tuesday. Upon his departure his many solicitous friends gave him a parting adieu by showering him with cracked corn and tapioca and a few other fruits of a like nature.