

John Blahna, who lives about seven miles northwest of town, has about completed plans whereby he will erect a handsome new residence on his farm, which, when completed, will be one of the most commodious and up-to-date farm homes to be found in this section of the state.