

Dorothy Hensel, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hensel, is carrying her arm in a sling as a result of a fall on the sidewalk in which her arm was broken. The bone was set by Dr. Shepard and the little girl will soon be able to have the use of both arms again as the break was not a bad one.