

Lorenz Joos was a caller here last Friday. Mr. Joos was formerly superintendent of the poor farm at Jamestown, and last fall moved to Washington. He was on his way back from the western country, stating that North Dakota was plenty good enough for him. He has not decided definitely where he will locate.

---