One of the best signs of prosperity in this state is the building operations that is now going on in all parts, some of which represent a large outlay of capital. The railroad companies are spending large sums of money in completing railroad work that has been at a stand still for the past two years, and also building new lines in every direction, which gives the farmer a short haul to market, and also tends to increase the value of the land. The Midland Continental railroad which is surveyed thru Courtenay, has finished its grading as far north as Jamestown and men are now busy ironing the same from Edgeley north and expect to have it ready for trains by July 1st, and will continue in this direction, which will give us an easy access in every direction. This railroad building is one of the best things the state could wish for and at the rate this line of work is being rushed, the farmers of the state will have railroad service within walking distance of their farms.

Hanse Madsen, a well known traveling man of Jamestown, has invented a gopher extinguisher which is said to be a sure death to the gopher. This will be a fine thing for the farmers, as the gophers are becoming more numerous each year, and a great burden to farmers. The sale of the extinguishers have been enormous and will no doubt net its inventor a good revenue.

The automobile craze seems to be spreading at a tremendous rate this year. People who have never before considered the auto are letting go of enough money for one of the buzz wagons this spring. It is wonderful how much money a person can find when such a luxury is needed.

There certainly must be something about the sheriff's office that is worth having as there are at the present time nine candidates after the office, each one fully expecting to be elected. A lot of disappointment to be distributed among eight would-be candidates next June.
