

Elmer Qualley of Finley, was given jail sentence for slandering a young woman. As Qualley's offense had been more through thoughtlessness than from malicious intent the presiding officer decided that, a light sentence would serve the ends of justice.