

John Siebert, who has been residing in Jamestown for the past year, has removed to his farm, west of here, and will try his hand at farming again. John is a good farmer and will farm the place the way it should be farmed. We are glad to have the family locate among us again.