

Paul Skjerseth of the First National bank, made a flying trip to the twin cities last Thursday evening. He was met at this point by his brother, Herman from Anamoose, who accompanied him to the cities. Herman has been transferred to Flaxton since the first of the year.